For our prayer time this morning

Our world is broken. All around us, we see heartache, despair, and pain.

The one thing we can do is pray. Prayer is powerful. Chris Rappazini writes in the Today in the Word devotional, “Even though it may take years to see an answer, you can be assured that your prayers are being heard.” God hears your prayers; and it is important that you pray. But where do you start? Here are a few prayers to help you begin:

We pray for those who are in the darkest of places, enduring the ravages of war, especially in Ukraine, Palestine Gaza and Israel and the many other places where there is ongoing civil war and unrest. We pray for those who work to feed and shelter those who need it most. We ask that your goodness will shine through the darkness and that peace will be in the hearts of those who have influence and authority. We pray you will move the hearts of those who can stop these wars. Convict them of their evil. Bring them to repentance. Amen.

We pray for those who do not believe. God show yourself to those who don't believe. Allow us to be a source of your light to those who need you. Help us to lead people to you. Help us tell others about you and have the words they need to hear. We pray for divine appointments all across the world today.

We pray for the sickness in our world. We pray for those suffering from cancer. We pray for those suffering from heart disease. We pray for those suffering from any form of sickness or ailment. If it is your will, we pray that you heal them, Lord. we ask that you be with them, comfort them, and provide them with peace. Be with their families that are struggling as they watch their loved ones suffer. Provide them with love and a sense of hope. God, we pray you heal our world. In Jesus' name, Amen.

Dear God, we come to you with a heavy heart. We pray for those battling mental illness. We pray you give them strength to keep fighting. We pray they know that they are loved, wanted, and valued. We ask that you bring a community around them that is godly, loving, and understanding. God, we pray for their families whose heart aches for their loved ones who are suffering. Give them the strength to keep fighting too. Be with those who are suffering and let them know that you are there. In Jesus' name, Amen.

Dear God, You are a God of justice. You care for those who are oppressed. You love those who are marginalized. We pray for justice and redemption in this world. Help us to know what is wrong and what is right. Help this world to know what is wrong and what is right. Provide peace and hope to those who are suffering from injustice. Show them that you are there, and you care for them and that you will make all things right. God, we pray for a world full of love and compassion. In Jesus' name, Amen.

Dear God, so many people are suffering from poverty. God, we pray for those today who are experiencing financial needs. we pray for those who don't have enough food to feed themselves or their families. we pray for those who don't have enough money for healthcare or medicine. we pray for those who don't have a home, or who have recently just lost their home. God, we pray that you will provide for these needs. Provide for their physical needs, as well as their spiritual needs. Let them know that you are there. In Jesus' name, Amen

Dear God, There is so much brokenness in this world. Please be with each family that is suffering. We pray you keep families united, loving and seeking you. We pray for reconciliation. We pray for each individual whose family has been torn apart by divorce, abuse, abandonment, drugs, alcohol, death, and any other circumstance. We pray that they are able to find hope in you. We pray for the families that are on the verge of being torn apart; We pray that you heal them. We pray for those who don't have a family. Let them find a loving, kind, and supportive family. Allow them to find a family within the kingdom of God. Provide them with comfort only you can supply. In Jesus' name, Amen
